A screenshot of the Woodclap website interface. The background is a solid blue color. At the top right, there is a small white circle with an 'i' inside, followed by the word 'Help' in white. In the center, the word 'wooclap' is written in a white, lowercase, sans-serif font. Below the logo, there is a paragraph of white text: 'Wooclap is an online platform through which presentations are made interactive. You can insert questions into your PowerPoint slideshow and have the audience participate through the web or via SMS. The results are then displayed in your PowerPoint presentation in real-time.' Below this paragraph is another paragraph: 'First, you need to sign into your Wooclap account. Then, you will be able to select the questions you would like to add to your PowerPoint presentation.' In the center, there is a white, rounded rectangular button with the word 'Start' in black. At the bottom, there is a line of white text: 'If you don't have an account yet, you can sign up for free on www.wooclap.com'. On the right side of the blue area, there is a vertical grey scrollbar with a white arrow pointing up at the top and a white arrow pointing down at the bottom.
